

THE CHICAGO ENSEMBLE

42nd season of Chicago-based subscription concerts

Offers a

WORKSHOP FOR ADULT AMATEUR CHAMBER MUSIC PLAYERS

Date: Sunday, May 12, 2019 10:00 – 5:00

Location: PianoForte

1335 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago

The workshop is open to piano, string and woodwind players who have some proficiency at their instrument. Both seasoned chamber players and those who are new to playing chamber music will benefit from this workshop.

We will match you up with others of comparable experience, or you may enroll with a group with whom you already play.

There will be a morning and an afternoon coaching session. For those coming as a single participant, you will be given two different pieces and be part of two different ensembles.

The music will be mailed to you. Groups who already play together may work on pieces they have already undertaken.

Coaches for the workshop are experienced, long-time members of The Chicago Ensemble, which performs its highly regarded chamber series at two Chicago locations.

Gerald Rizzer, piano/artistic director

Mathias Tacke, violin

Andrew Snow, cello

Susan Levitin, flute

Elizandro Garcia-Montoya, clarinet

Application deadline is April 1.

You will receive music around April 15.

You will be given the names and contact information for the others with whom you have been matched, so that you can schedule a rehearsal in advance of the workshop.

Cost of the workshop is $120 for individuals whom we match up with other players.

Cost of the workshop is $100 per person for members of already constituted groups.

Cost covers :

--Morning coaching session

--Buffet lunch (will be provided)

--Afternoon session

--Performance to conclude the day
